The 2020 Census Process Begins

This fall the census will conduct in-field address canvassing. This means that you can expect a census worker to knock on your door to verify your address. They will display an official badge and the only question they will ask is for verification of your home address.

While the census may seem intrusive, it generates the statistics that determine our number of representatives in Congress, as well as the amount of funding our community receives. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated—thank you!

Fire Season's Not Over Yet...

With the days shortening and the recent rainfall, we can be lulled into thinking that fire season is behind us. Far from it, fire season can stretch well into October. Be sure to check with the authorities if you have any questions and call 911 right away if you see or smell smoke.
